

In 2011, the village of Tawergha was raided by rebels and militiamen from Misrata who humiliated, imprisoned and brutally tortured 1300 men, many of whom were massacred as they needed black scapegoats for the crimes committed by the regime of Gaddafi during his attempt to end their revolt.

The town of Tawergha was ethnically cleansed and the 40,000 inhabitants were violently evicted. Their houses and shops were looted and set on fire and the infrastructure and community buildings destroyed.

Even today in the refugee camps the population of Tawergha are easy targets and fair game. The rebels and militia members have no problem with entering the camps while randomly shooting people without sparing the lives of women and children or the elderly and then abduct boys and men for torture.

For the past years the various Human Rights Organizations have written extensive and outraged reports about their fate but to date, the new regime in Libya and the international community failed to provide security and justice for these people.

Citizens of NATO member countries should feel responsible for their situation having assisted the rebels and militiamen with our intervention in 2011.

We can't understand and will not tolerate that these people have been suffering for many years without hope of returning home and that's why we have set up the Tawergha Foundation.

The Tawergha Foundations pursues the following objectives:

- Advance the return of the refugees from Tawergha to their village.
- Create awareness inside and outside Libya for their situation.
- Provide development for the population of Tawergha through training and courses.
- Enable employment and self-sufficiency for the people of Tawergha.
- Obtain justice and compensation for the victims from Tawergha.

We have collected near to a thousands news items and nearly three hundred official reports on crimes against humanity committed against the people of Tawergha in Libya over the last eight year.
